DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to communications: Application, filed on 1/20/04.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 2-10, 12-20, 22-29, and 31-33 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The prior art of record fails to teach and/or suggest "a query schema in the memory . . . describing one or more query entities; a select macro in the memory . . . memory expansion program in the memory . . . separate the select macro into plurality of macro tokens; compare each macro token . . . expand the matched macro token according to the query schema," combined with "directs the processor to execute the modified select macro; create a data object for each macro . . . assign entity filed values to data attributes according the query schema."

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1, 11, 21, and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kagalwala et al., US# 20050027725.

As per claims 1, 11, 21, and 30, Kagalwala et al. teaches "a memory; a query schema in the memory, the query schema describing one or more query entities; a select macro in the memory" (see paragraph [0020], [2114], and [2178]) "a macro expansion program in the memory directing the processor to separate the select macro into a plurality of macro tokens; compare each macro token with each query entity; and responsive to matching a macro token with a query entity, expand the matched macro token according to the query schema" (see paragraph [0020], [4437], and [4548]).

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. US# 6842906; 5920873.
